The T (text: ±18 pts and smaller) and D (display: ± 24 pts and larger) codes refer to the differences in design and contrast. The D versions have for instance a higher contrast, are somewhat lighter and have a tighter spacing. Please note that the fonts have no physical limitations; the point sizes presented here are only meant as guidelines.

All fonts of the DTL Caspari News typeface for Western European languages in the PostScript Type1 and TrueType formats for Mac os or Windows can be licensed separately, in any combination.

A single user license for the complete Text version of the DTL Caspari News typeface for Western European languages in one of these two formats costs € 675 (that is € 750 minus 10% discount).

A single user license for the complete Display version of the DTL Caspari News typeface for Western European languages in one of these two formats costs € 675 (that is € 750 minus 10% discount).
